3. ADDRESSED TO

Plano Frontal's main targets are senior students on their final year attending higher education courses in Audiovisuals and Cinema or that have recently completed their education.

It addresses all those people willing to live through the experience of directing a documentary film and participating, with the support of a professional team and through discussion and image viewing, in the projects made by other groups.

4. PLANO FRONTAL ORIENTATION

Pedra Sena Nunes, a director/tutor with a large professional and pedagogical experience in documentary directing and orientation, will coordinate the work planning and will provide a systematic reflection about the daily activities. He will be supported by a technical and operational team, coordinated by Carlos Eduardo Viana.

5. FILMS AND THEME

During this film residency, four teams, formed by a director, cameraman and a sound technician, wherein one of the members will also support editing, will direct four documentaries inspired by the wine industry in the municipality.

The themes for the films will be decided between the teams and the project's coordinating team.

6. SELECTION

The participants in Plano Frontal will be selected through application analysis. The application must come from a group of three highly motivated people, who will select amongst themselves the director, cameraman and sound technician, and wherein one of the team members might have to take responsibility for the treatment, identification and selection of equipment during the shooting phase;

The schedule will be set by the director/tutor, in connection with production, taking into account the shooting development of the different groups.

11. EDITING

We will also have editing suggestions for a collective discussion back in Melgaço. Later on, we will start planning the support mechanisms to the final versions.
